

MBA Pioneer 2024

Verbal Ability and Reading Comprehension

DPP: 5

Para-Jumbles (Non-MCQ)

Q1 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. The statistical theory has been developed to extract information from raw data using formalism and machinery of mathematics.
2. The statistical theory needs to be incorporated into the project through the employment of a quantitative research design and a positivist paradigm.
3. Field data will be collected and converted into numerical format in order for statistical calculations to be made and conclusions drawn.
4. The theory has the potential to enrich a research project on the influence of staffing ratios on patient satisfaction during ER visits through enhanced validity and greater attention to both heterogeneities of effects and causal processes producing different types of patient satisfaction levels depending on staffing ratios.

Q2 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. It is a common misconception that after the installation of new technology profits will go up, efficiency will be increased with minimal downtime being experienced.
2. Acquisition of new technology is viewed by many as the magic that will change everything into gold.
3. Fixing current shortcomings in the system requires a brilliant look at the business processes including whether the set protocols are being followed.

4. But this is not always so because technology is about business processes.

Q3 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. The human nervous System employs specialized cells known as "neurons" to deliver impulses or messages throughout the body.
2. The Nervous System is the "command and control center of the body" and is controlled by the brain and governs people's actions, thoughts, and instinctive responses.
3. These electrical impulses go between the brain, the skin, the organs, the glands, and the muscles.
4. The nervous system regulates other bodily systems and activities like digestion, respiration, and sexual development.

Q4 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. The question arises of how female birds know that the male in front of them is suitable for continuing their lineage.
2. One assumption is that the more striking appearance of a male, the more likely he is to attract a female.
3. Birds rarely have families and live with a partner for long periods.
4. Reproductive mechanisms in birds are more complex than in humans as a social species.

Android App | iOS App | PW Website

Q5 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. The definition of leisure is highly dependent on the quality of the experience.
2. Leisure can be defined in various ways and has a positive connotation in the mass consciousness, associated with pleasant time and freedom.
3. The author's point is that leisure is not just about the amount of time, but also about the quality of the experience during that time.
4. Wilson argues that leisure is often used to refer to a portion of time, such as working hours, communication situations, or driving a car.

Q6 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. Yeast is one of the organisms that perform cellular fermentation in the presence of a substrate to produce energy.
2. All living organisms obtain their energy from the environment through various processes.
3. The process also occurs in the muscle cells of animals when performing a vigorous activity and in bacteria.
4. An example of such a process is cellular fermentation, a pathway of breaking down sugars in the absence of oxygen.

Q7 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. In order for the USA to explore outer space, scientists and researchers came up with artificial satellites that enhanced the provision of eminent security in the country.
2. The United States' involvement in the expansion of outer space contributed immensely to the technological advancement of the country.

3. The United States was one of the countries that took part in the Cold War and also involved itself in Space Race.

4. The United States also focused much on the development of eminent security to counter any attack that might have threatened the national security of the state.

Q8 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. By inventing the illusion of the American dream where the nation is presented as an ideal country, people were largely obsessed with material values thus ignoring the moral ones.
2. The economic and social crisis reached all layers of society irrespective of race, wealth, social status, and education.
3. The land of expectation and optimism turned into the land of frustration and despair.
4. The 1930s witnessed the Great Depression in America where the concept of the American dream turned into a desperate fight for survival.
5. This time was especially difficult for farmers for whom California was a kind of the Promising Land giving a chance to improve at least the agricultural segment of the economy.

Q9 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. A closer look at the Soviet strategy before WWII reveals that the government had almost destroyed the ability of the people to become an army.
2. The Soviets were not ready for WWII.
3. Nevertheless, the experience they gained in WWI and the unique character of the Slavs turned the nation into an unbeatable force ready to fight against any enemy who was trying to take control over their lands and bring oppression to the freedom-loving people.

Android App

| iOS App

| PW Website

- The program of collectivism, hunger, and increasing dissatisfaction with the central planning economy was a contribution to the social disobedience.

Q10 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

- When Nazis invaded Italy, it was too late for some people to emigrate so the Pope started to find places to hide the Jews.
- The Pope helped many Jews by issuing them fake documents showing the Jews as Christians so that they can immigrate to these countries.
- He ordered that people in all the religious buildings should help save Jews by giving them a place to hide.
- Countries like the U.S. and Great Britain did not allow any Jews to enter their country.
- As all the Jews were deprived of their money and properties, the Pope paid millions of dollars to help them.

Q11 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

- Many from FDR's cabinet remained and helped a relatively inexperienced Truman transition.
- Truman came into office after the death of Roosevelt and his subsequent reelection in 1946.
- Truman sought to pursue a similar line of socially-friendly policies as Roosevelt.
- Truman focused strongly on economics and labor, attempting to achieve a healthy transition from a wartime economy to a consumer-driven one.

Q12 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

- The idea that the legacy of colonialism has hindered the development and improvement of former colonies is partially valid.
- Former colonies display varying levels of performance, with some being wealthy and successful, while others are poor and struggling.
- The postcolonial view holds that colonial empires had a lasting and detrimental influence on the nations they dominated.
- The colonial powers were disruptive to cultures and economies and aimed to extract resources from the colonies.
- The contrast between wealthy former colonies such as Singapore and poor African countries like Zimbabwe highlights the varying degrees of performance among former colonies.

Q13 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

- The use of agencies and the Internet in advertising tourism products facilitates a number of advantages, which include increased consumer awareness, effective competition, and increased purchases.
- By using agencies and the Internet to advertise products of a tourism establishment, the level of information available for the potential consumers increases.
- Consumers become aware of the products, and thus, are tempted to visit the subject destination and purchase them.
- Agencies and the Internet are some of the major advertising channels that tourism establishments can use in reaching the target tourists.

Q14 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of

Android App | iOS App | PW Website

sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. Tourists only pay for the services of using these products without having to assume ownership.
2. The High-Speed Elevators offer tourists the opportunity of experiencing a fast vertical ride while viewing panoramic features of the city.
3. These products are non-tangible since tourists only pay for the entertainment experience without having to personally own any of the products after making payments.
4. The other products such as Edge Walk, Red Rocket, and Night Lighting offer entertainment satisfaction to tourists.

Q15 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. The border between the United States and Mexico is a powerful theme in many works of art, reflecting both the struggle of those seeking a better life and the violence and lawlessness that exist there.
2. The intense and often dangerous events that occur on this border have been explored by talented writers and filmmakers.
3. The United States and Mexico share a border that is just under two thousand miles in length.
4. This expansive area is frequently plagued by problems due to the relentless efforts of immigrants trying to enter the United States and the high levels of criminal activity committed by illegal elements.

Q16 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. The explorers' journey marked the beginning of a new era in the history of global exploration and the mapping of the world.
2. At that time, the maps of the world were not complete or accurate and it was believed that there was no land beyond Africa and Eurasia.

3. The origin of State Global Colonization is said to have started in the 15th century with the discovery of the American continents by explorers from Spanish and Portugal Empires.
4. The discovery of new lands, new continents sparked a wave of exploratory expeditions.

Q17 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. Today, communication has expanded beyond trade and encompasses various aspects of an individual's life.
2. Intercultural communication dates back to ancient times when our ancestors interacted with people from diverse ethnic backgrounds for common activities like trade.
3. Communication is no longer restricted to a simple exchange of goods but involves a diverse range of interactions between people from different cultures.
4. The ever-changing technology has fueled the growth and improvement of intercultural communication.
5. The introduction of various communication tools has laid the foundation for better interactions among individuals from diverse backgrounds.

Q18 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. This diversity of life is essential to the well-being of our planet and the survival of our species.
2. However, human activities such as deforestation, overfishing, and pollution are threatening this diversity.
3. The earth is home to an incredible variety of plant and animal species, from the tiniest microorganisms to the largest mammals.
4. In order to preserve biodiversity, it is important for humans to take action to protect the natural world.

Android App
iOS App
PW Website

Q19 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. There were several attempts to create a writing form for the Hmong, but the main method was a Romanization system.
 2. Scholars of the Hmong tribe came to understand the uniqueness of the Hmong language through their utterances.
 3. The Hmong tribe had a unique writing system that was not well known until the late 19th century.
 4. This Romanization system was non-intuitive for both Hmong and English speakers due to the unique articulation of the Hmong language.

Q20 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. A comparison of the myths and legends of the Iroquois with their actual cultural values shows the impact these stories have had on the formation of their identity.
 2. Ancient culture is often conveyed to us through stories passed down through generations or by conquering outsiders.
 3. An investigation of the myths is considered essential in illustrating the culture of the Iroquois.
 4. The research study will start by examining the myths of the Iroquois, but this will prove to be a crucial aspect of understanding the culture.

Q21 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. The regulations of chemical additives in food ensure their safe and responsible use in the food industry.
 2. Chemical food additives play a crucial role in the modern food industry, increasing storage ability, improving taste and quality, making mass production cheaper, and making products available to global consumers.

3. Inorganic additives are added to food to preserve flavor, enhance taste, and appearance.
 4. The use of chemical additives in food is strongly regulated by national and international laws.

Q22 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

Q23 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. There is a difference in cultural codes between students and teachers in the target country.
 2. It is believed that members of immigrant families learn English as a foreign language.
 3. To facilitate communication and achieve positive learning outcomes, education centers employ strategies to incorporate cultural specificities into everyday school practice.
 4. Cultural differences must influence learning styles, academic techniques, and language and writing skills.

Q24

Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

Q25 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. God is depicted in Christian art as a wise, older man with a beard and white hair and is praised for his forgiveness and the creation of a bountiful world.
 2. In the Bible, God is depicted as a benevolent, if strict, father figure who can forgive sins and grant eternal redemption.
 3. Different cultures have unique creation myths and methods of presenting them through art.
 4. The European Christian God created mankind in his own image and granted them dominion over the Garden of Eden.

Q26 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. Slavery developed in European colonies due to the need for additional labor in trading and marine settlements.

2. Slavery has been a problematic aspect of human history.
 3. The practice of slavery in British North America was characterized by how colonists regarded enslaved people.
 4. Enslaved people were used in every aspect of the economy, from sugar production to raw material harvesting.

Q27 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. The American image underwent multiple changes in literary works, initially being portrayed as a youthful nation of virtuous simplicity.
 2. America was discovered in the 15th century, but attitudes towards it and its citizens continued to develop.
 3. British authors later questioned the social freedoms and public affairs of the United States in the 19th century.
 4. There were different opinions about the United States, with some admiring its development and success and others criticizing its ambiguity and lack of balance.

Q28 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. Progressives do not shy away from challenges but instead act with passion and determination to bring about positive transformations.
 2. To be a progressive means being optimistic about change and participating actively in problem-solving processes.
 3. Theodore Roosevelt, a young American president, is known for his progressive ideas and desire to change society.
 4. He saw the progressive movement as a way to protect the real rule of humans and address the existing distrust and helplessness.

Q29 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of

sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. The occupation and activity of young athletes are similar to that of adult athletes, but their nutritional requirements are unique to their stage of growth.
2. To ensure their optimal growth and development, young athletes should receive food that is adequate to their individual needs.
3. It is crucial for young athletes to prioritize nutrition and rest, as it is essential for their overall well-being and athletic performance.
4. Young athletes have a specific need for nutrition and rest because they are in a phase of active growth and some of their body functions differ from those of adults.

Q30 Carefully read the statements in the questions below and arrange them in a logical order of sequence meaningfully. [TITA]

1. The International Olympic Committee (IOC) regulates the rules of commerce and works with governments and local committees to ensure the smooth and successful conduct of the Olympic Games.
2. The International Olympic Committee (IOC) is an international non-governmental organization that was established in Switzerland in 1894.
3. The Olympic Games are organized every four years by the International Olympic Committee (IOC).
4. Despite its status as a non-governmental organization, the International Olympic Committee (IOC) acts as a governmental body to ensure that the games are conducted in accordance with the rules, laws, ethics, and environmental requirements.

Android App | iOS App | PW Website

Answer Key

Q1 1423
Q2 2431
Q3 2413
Q4 4312
Q5 2413
Q6 2413
Q7 3214
Q8 42351
Q9 2314
Q10 42513
Q11 2314
Q12 34125
Q13 4123
Q14 2431
Q15 3214

Q16 3241
Q17 21453
Q18 3142
Q19 3142
Q20 2143
Q21 3241
Q22 (D)
Q23 2143
Q24 (B)
Q25 3412
Q26 2143
Q27 2413
Q28 3412
Q29 4213
Q30 3241

Hints & Solutions

Q1 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 1423. This sequence is correct because it outlines the key points of the passage in a logical manner. The passage begins with sentence 1 by introducing the statistical theory and its purpose in the context of a research project on the influence of staffing ratios on patient satisfaction during ER visits. Sentence 4 then explains how this theory can enhance the validity and understanding of the research project. The passage then explains that in order to use the statistical theory in the research project, a quantitative research design and positivist paradigm must be employed, followed by sentence 2. Finally, sentence 3 explains that field data will be collected and converted into numerical format in order for statistical calculations to be made and conclusions drawn. This sequence is logical as it follows the progression of the passage in a clear and coherent manner.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q2 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 2431. This sequence of statements is correct as sentence two highlights the common misconception that the acquisition of new technology can solve all problems and bring about success and introduces the topic. Sentence four then goes on to explain that technology is not a magic solution and that fixing current shortcomings in the system requires a detailed examination of the business processes and protocols in place, mentioned in sentence 3. The last statement reiterates the misconception that new technology will automatically lead to an increase in profits and efficiency. This sequence of statements presents a logical and clear progression of ideas that builds on the previous statement and leads to the final conclusion.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q3 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answers:

The correct sequence is 2413. This sequence is correct because the passage is describing the nervous system and its functions. Statement-2 sets the foundation for the topic by introducing what the nervous system is and its purpose.

Android App

| iOS App

| PW Website

Statement-4 expands on this by mentioning the other bodily systems that the nervous system regulates. Statement-1 explains the mechanism by which the nervous system communicates and functions, which is through specialized cells called neurons. Finally, statement-3 provides an example of how the nervous system functions by relaying electrical impulses throughout the body, allowing individuals to move and feel. This sequence progresses in a logical way, building on the previous statement to provide a comprehensive understanding of the nervous system and its functions.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q4 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 4312. This sequence is logical because it flows from the general idea of the complexity of reproductive mechanisms in birds, mentioned in sentence 4 to the specific phenomenon of birds not having families and living with partners for a short period of time, discussed in sentence 3. Sentence two then raises the question of how female birds determine suitability in a mate and presents one assumption as to how this may occur, provides an ending to the paragraph. This sequence is logical because it presents the information in a logical progression that builds upon the previous statement.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q5 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 2413. This sequence of statements accurately conveys the main ideas discussed in the passage, which are the multiple definitions of leisure, its positive connotation in the mass consciousness, and the argument by Wilson that leisure is not just about the amount of time, but also about the quality of the experience during that time. Statement-2 sets the stage by introducing the multiple definitions of leisure and its positive connotation. Statement-4 introduces Wilson's argument and provides specific examples of how leisure can be used. Statement-1 and 3 then build on Wilson's argument by emphasizing that the quality of the experience is an important factor in determining the definition of leisure. The order of these statements is logical because it moves from a general introduction to the topic to a more specific discussion of the author's argument.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Android App

| iOS App

| PW Website

Q6 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 2413. This sequence is correct as it follows a logical progression of the topic, starting with the second sentence, the general statement that all living organisms obtain energy from the environment through various processes, and then providing specific examples of cellular fermentation as one such process in sentence 4. It then goes on to mention that yeast is one organism that performs this process, discussed in sentence 1, shows that 1 follows 4, and continues to mention in sentence 3 that this process also occurs in other organisms such as muscle cells of animals and bacteria. This order is accurate according to the correct sequence of statements.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q7 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 3214. This sequence is correct because it provides a logical progression of events and ideas. The passage starts with sentence three by mentioning that the United States was involved in the Cold War and the Space Race, which set the stage for the technological advancements that were to come. The next statement i.e. sentence two explains how the United States' involvement in the expansion of outer space contributed to its technological advancements, specifically through the development of artificial satellites. The first statement goes into more detail about how these satellites were used to enhance security within the country. Finally, the passage concludes by mentioning the United States' focus on developing security measures to protect its national security, mentioned in sentence four. This sequence of statements is logical because it builds upon the previous statement, providing more information and elaboration on the main idea.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q8 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here five sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 42351. The above sequence is logical as it presents a clear progression of the events and the impact of the Great Depression on the American society, starting with sentence four, the general statement about the Great Depression and the American dream, then providing more specific details in sentence two about the impact of the crisis on different segments of society, specifically mentioning farmers and California, so sentence two follows four. Sentence three talks about its result, so it should be the next one. After discussing the adverse effects on land, sentence five discusses that it was a difficult situation for farmers because of adverse effects on land, thus 5 follows 3. The last statement i.e. sentence one provides an analysis of the impact of the crisis on society, highlighting how people's focus on material values increased during this time. Hence, option A is correct.

Android App

| iOS App

| PW Website

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q9 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct option is 2314. This sequence of events is logical because it follows a chronological order of events that occurred before WWII. Statement-2 establishes the fact that the Soviets were not ready for WWII. Statement-3 explains how the experience they gained in WWI and the unique character of the Slavs turned the nation into an unbeatable force ready to fight against any enemy who was trying to take control over their lands and bring oppression to the freedom-loving people.

Statement-1 provides insight into the Soviet strategy before WWII and how the government had almost destroyed the ability of the people to become an army. Finally, Statement-4 explains how the program of collectivism, hunger, and increasing dissatisfaction with the central planning economy was a contribution to the social disobedience. This sequence is logical because it explains the events that led to the Soviet's readiness for WWII.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q10 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here five sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 42513. This sequence is correct as it reflects the chronological order of the events mentioned in the passage. The fourth statement mentions that Jews were not allowed to enter countries like the US and Great Britain. The second statement mentions that the Pope issued fake documents to help Jews immigrate to these countries. The fifth statement mentions that the Pope paid money to help Jews. The first statement mentions that when Nazis invaded Italy, the Pope started to find places to hide Jews. Finally, the third statement mentions that the Pope ordered religious buildings to provide a place to hide for Jews. Thus, the sequence of events is correctly presented in this order.

Trap of the question:

Android App

| iOS App

| PW Website

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q11 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 2314. This sequence is logical because it follows the chronological order of Truman's actions and decisions after he became the President. It starts with sentence two that discusses his assumption of office, then his objective of continuing Roosevelt's policies, discussed in sentence three. Sentence three is followed by sentence one that discusses the support he received from the previous cabinet, and then his focus on economics and labor in sentence four, providing a closing to the paragraph. This sequence provides a clear picture of Truman's actions and decisions after he became the President.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q12 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here five sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 34125. This sequence of statements accurately conveys the main ideas discussed in the passage, which are the postcolonial view on the impact of colonial empires, the idea that colonialism has hindered the development of former colonies, and the varying degrees of performance among former colonies. Statement-3 sets the stage by introducing the postcolonial view and its focus on the lasting impact of colonial empires. Statement-4 provides further detail on this impact by discussing how colonial powers were disruptive to cultures and economies and aimed to extract resources. Statement-1 then introduces the idea that the legacy of colonialism has hindered the development of former colonies, though acknowledges that this idea is only partially valid. Statement-2 and 5 build on this idea by highlighting the varying degrees of performance among former colonies, using the contrast between wealthy and poor countries as an example. The order of these statements is logical because it moves from a general introduction to the topic to a more specific discussion of the varying degrees of performance among former colonies. Hence, option B is correct.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q13 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 4123. This sequence is correct because it presents a logical progression of ideas. It starts with sentence four by introducing the main topic of the passage, which is the use of agencies and the Internet as advertising channels for tourism establishments. Then it goes on to explain the advantages of using these channels, which include increased consumer awareness, effective competition, and increased purchases in sentence one. Statement-2 explains how this increase in consumer awareness is achieved by providing more information to potential customers through the use of agencies and the Internet. Finally, statement-3 concludes by explaining how this increased awareness leads to increased purchases and visits to the subject destination. This logical progression of ideas makes it easy for the reader to understand the main point of the passage and the reasoning behind it.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q14 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 2431. This is the logical sequence as it first describes that the High-Speed Elevators offer tourists the opportunity of experiencing a fast vertical ride in sentence two, and then talk about other products that are being offered in sentence four. This is followed by a description of the nature of these products which is that they are non-tangible and the tourists only pay for the experience without having to own any product in sentence three. Finally, sentence one summarizes that tourists pay for the services without having to assume ownership. It is a step-by-step description of the products and the nature of the services being offered.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q15 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 3214. The sequence of these statements is meaningful because statement-3 begins by establishing the length of the border between the two countries and then delves into the issues that exist there. Statement-2 discusses the difficulties faced by immigrants and the criminal elements that operate in the area, which sets the stage for the statement-1. Statement-1 then introduces the concept of the border being a common theme in works of art, and finally, statement-4 provides additional detail on how this theme is explored and what it reflects. This logical progression of information effectively communicates the complexities and challenges faced by those who live and work along the United States-Mexico border.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q16 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 3241. The sequence of these statements is meaningful because first statement-3 sets the historical context for the origin of State Global Colonization and then statement-2 provides a description of the state of world maps at that time. Statement-4 explains the impact of the discovery of new lands, and finally, statement-1 summarizes the significance of the explorers' journey in the larger context of global exploration and mapping. This sequence effectively conveys the historical context, the state of knowledge and technology at the time, and the impact of the discovery of the American continents on the world.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q17 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here five sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 21453. This sequence is correct because statement-2 starts with the history of intercultural communication, highlighting its roots in ancient times when people from different cultures had to interact for common activities such as trade. Statement-1 then moves on to discuss the current scenario, where communication has expanded beyond trade to encompass various aspects of an individual's life. Statements-4 and 5 focus on the role of technology in the growth and improvement of intercultural communication and the introduction of various communication tools that have laid the foundation for better interactions. Finally, statement-3 summarizes the evolution of intercultural communication from a simple exchange of goods to a diverse range of interactions between people from different cultures.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q18 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

Android App | iOS App | PW Website

The paragraph is discussing the importance of biodiversity and the threats it faces from human activities. Sentence 3 is a good starting point because it introduces the topic of biodiversity and the diversity of life on earth. Sentence 1 follows logically because it emphasizes the importance of biodiversity to the well-being of our planet and species. Sentence 4 provides an introduction of the idea that humans need to take action to protect the natural world in order to preserve biodiversity. Sentence 2 provides the reason why such action is necessary, namely, because human activities are threatening the diversity of life on earth and proving an ending to the paragraph. Thus, the correct order is 3142.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q19 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 3142. The sequence of these statements is in a logical order because it describes the evolution of the writing system for the Hmong tribe. Statement-3 sets the stage by indicating that the writing system was not well known until later in the 19th century. Statement-1 explains that there were several attempts to create a writing form, but the main method was a Romanization system. Statement-4 provides more detail about why this Romanization system was not ideal, as it was non-intuitive for both Hmong and English speakers due to the unique articulation of the Hmong language. Statement-2 ties the whole passage together by indicating that scholars of the Hmong tribe were able to understand the uniqueness of their language through their utterances, despite the challenges in writing it down. This sequence is coherent and flows logically, making it easy to understand the evolution of the Hmong tribe's writing system.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q20 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 2143. The sequence of these statements is in a logical order because it explains how the myths and legends of a culture can contribute to the understanding of that culture. Statement-2 sets the stage by indicating that much of what we know about ancient culture comes from stories. Statement-1 provides an example of this idea by comparing the myths of the Iroquois to their actual cultural values and showing how these stories have contributed to the formation of their identity. Statement-4 and then statement-3 emphasize the importance of examining these myths in order to understand the culture of the Iroquois. The study will begin with an investigation of the myths, and this will prove to be a crucial component of understanding the culture. This sequence is coherent and flows logically, making it clear how the myths and legends of a culture can contribute to our understanding of that culture.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q21 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 3241. This sequence is correct because it explains the role and purpose of inorganic additives in the food industry, and then emphasizes the regulations surrounding their use. Statement-3 introduces the idea that inorganic additives are added to food for specific purposes such as preserving flavor and enhancing taste. Statement-2 expands on this by describing the broader role these additives play in the food industry, including their impact on storage, taste, quality, cost, and global availability. Statement-4 highlights the importance of regulation by indicating that their use is strongly regulated by national and international laws. Finally, statement-1 reinforces the idea that these regulations are in place to ensure safe and responsible use of chemical additives in food. This sequence provides a clear and comprehensive explanation of the role and regulation of inorganic additives in the food industry.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q22 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here five sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 15324. This sequence is correct because it provides a logical progression of the concept of taste perception. Statement-1 introduces the idea that sensory identification of consumed products by the tongue is referred to as taste perception or gustation. Statement-5 explains how the tongue works in taste perception by chemically reacting with food through taste receptors to determine specific qualities. Statement-3 provides historical context by indicating that there was a previous belief that there were only four main categories of taste. Statement-2 highlights the advancement in knowledge about taste perception with the discovery of a fifth category, umami. Finally, statement-4 ties the concept of taste perception to evolution by explaining how gustation evolved as a survival mechanism to help individuals identify nutritious and non-harmful food. This sequence provides a comprehensive overview of the concept of taste perception and its evolution.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q23 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 2143. The sequence of the statements is correct as it logically explains the reasons behind the approach towards teaching English to immigrant families. Statement-2 sets the context and mentions the traditional belief. Statement-1 highlights the difference in cultural codes between the students and teachers, which is linked to the approach mentioned in statement-2. The Statement-4 emphasizes the importance of recognizing cultural differences as it influences various aspects of learning. Finally, statement-3 explains how education centers are trying to overcome this issue by incorporating cultural specificities into their practices. This sequence is meaningful as it provides a clear and concise explanation of the approach towards teaching English to immigrant families, starting with the background, highlighting the challenge, and finally, providing a solution to overcome it.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q24 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here five sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 31524. The sequence of the statements is meaningful as it provides a comprehensive overview of the impact of the industrial revolution on workers and entrepreneurs. Statement-3 sets the context of the impact of industrialization on entrepreneurs and people starting their own businesses. Statement-1 explains how the industrial revolution led to the introduction of new types of production and machinery, shows that 1 follows 3. Statement-5 highlights the shift away from manual labor and the increased demand for more skilled workers. Statement-2 underscores the need for a higher level of education and proficiency among workers. As sentences 5 and 2 talks about workers and have connectivity, so 2 follows 5. Finally, statement-4 summarizes the overall impact of the industrial revolution on employment, with job losses for some and new opportunities for others. In this way, the sequence of the statements is logically structured, starting with the broader context and gradually moving to the specific impacts of the industrial revolution on different groups of people.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q25 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Android App

| iOS App

| PW Website

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 3412. The sequence of the statements is meaningful as it provides a clear and concise explanation of the difference between the creation myths of the Aztec civilization and the European conquerors. Statement-3 sets the context of the unique creation myths and presentation methods of different cultures, so it should be the first one. Statement-4 explains the European's perspective of creation and the role of God in it. Statement-1 describes the depiction of God in Christian art and what it represents. Sentence 1 talks about the concept of God which is discussed in sentence 4, so 1 follows 4. Finally, statement-2 provides more details on the nature of God in the Bible. In this way, the sequence of the statements follows a logical progression, starting with the context, highlighting the differences, and then providing more specific details on the European perspective of creation.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q26 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 2143. The sequence of these statements presents a clear and comprehensive overview of the history of slavery. Statement-2 sets the context of the issue, highlighting its problematic nature, hence introduces the topic. Statement-1 provides the reason for the development of slavery in European colonies, which was the need for additional labor, as it carries on the topic of slavery, it should be the next one. Statement-4 explains the extent of the use of slave labor in different aspects of the economy, it shows that 4 follows 1. Finally, statement-3 characterizes the practice of slavery in British North America based on how colonists regarded enslaved people. This sequence follows a logical progression, starting with the broad context of slavery and gradually delving into specific details such as the reasons for its development, the extent of its use, and how it was practiced. This progression helps the reader to understand the complexity of the issue and the various factors that contributed to its practice in history.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q27 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 2413. The sequence of these statements presents a clear and comprehensive overview of the changing attitudes towards America and its citizens over time. Statement-2 introduces the topic by setting the context of the discovery of America and the ongoing development of opinions about it. Statement-4 presents the differing opinions about the United States, highlighting both admiration and criticism. Statement-1 focuses on how the American image was portrayed in literary works, initially as a youthful nation of virtuous simplicity, which makes it the next statement. Finally, statement-3 explains how British authors later questioned the social freedoms and public affairs of the United States in the 19th century. This sequence follows a logical progression, starting with the discovery of America and the ongoing development of opinions about it. It then presents the differing opinions and how they were portrayed in literary works, gradually delving into the specific details of how British authors later questioned the social freedoms and public affairs of the United States. This progression helps the reader to understand the complexity of the issue and the various factors that contributed to changing attitudes towards America over time.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q28 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 3412. This sequence of statements is correct as it provides a chronological and meaningful progression of information about Theodore Roosevelt's political beliefs and values. Statement-3 sets the stage by introducing Roosevelt as a young American president known for his progressive ideas. Statement-4 explains why he saw the progressive movement as a solution to the issues facing society at the time, this makes it the next statement. Statement-1 and 2 describe the key characteristics of progressive ideas, including a focus on social justice, the common good, and environmental improvement. Sentence 2 describes 'to be progressive' and provides it a proper ending.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q29 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 4213. This sequence of statements is correct as it provides a logical progression of information about the importance of nutrition and rest for young athletes. Statement-4 introduces the topic by setting the context for why young athletes have specific needs, by highlighting the differences in their growth and body functions compared to adults. Statement-2 emphasizes the importance of addressing these needs by providing adequate nutrition, which makes it the next statement. Statement-1 further clarifies why young athletes' nutritional needs are unique, despite similarities in their occupation and activity. Statement-3 summarizes the overall importance of nutrition and rest for young athletes.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Q30 Text Solution:

Essence of the question:

Here four sentences are given which are not in order. We need to arrange them logically in a proper sequence so that a meaningful paragraph can be formed. The correct order will be our answer.

Explanation for the answer:

The correct sequence is 3241. This sequence of statements is correct as it provides a comprehensive overview of the role of the International Olympic Committee (IOC) in the organization of the Olympic Games. Statement-3 establishes the frequency of the games and the responsible body for their organization and becomes the first sentence. Statement-2 provides the background of the IOC and its origin as an international non-governmental organization. Statement-4 highlights the paradox of the IOC's role as a non-governmental organization that acts as a governmental body, providing the necessary regulations and oversight for the conduct of the games. As sentence 4 discusses the same issue of IOC, makes it follow Finally, statement-1 outlines the IOC's responsibilities in regulating the rules of commerce and working with other organizations to ensure the successful conduct of the Olympic Games.

Trap of the question:

Some arrangements of sentences may appear to be ideologically coherent but do not adhere to either grammatical rules, linguistic nuances, or the chain of ideas holistically, which is an effective trap in such cases. It is necessary to evaluate the holistic chain of thought while answering such questions.

Android App | iOS App | PW Website